

Psychiatry

Helping adults with learning disabilities with their mental health, behaviours of concern, epilepsy and dementia.

A Psychiatrist can:

Help you worry less and feel happier.

Give you medicine to help you worry less or feel happier.

Check to see if you are feeling better with the medicine and ask you about side effects.

Help you with managing your epilepsy.

A Psychiatrist can:

Support you if you are having problems with your memory.

Help you if you are angry or have started hearing voices.

Help with developing care plans.

Give advice to your GP and the rest of the community learning disability team.
